Latest Reports from Togo Show That Every Russian Battleship Was Either Sunk or Captured—One Cruiser and One Destroyer Reach Vladivostok.

War Must Go on to the "Bitter End," Says Count Cassini.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

ASSOCIATED PRESS HEADQUARTERS, NEW YORK, May 31.—According to the latest reports from Vice-Admiral Togo to his government, the loss to the Russians in ships sunk or captured now numbers 22, while full particulars are not yet in. The admiral says that none of his big fighting ships was seriously damaged.

Interesting news comes from Vladivostok, sent direct by the correspondent of the Associated Press, who reports the arrival there of the protected cruiser Almaz and the torpedo-boat destroyer Grozny. The officers of the Almaz say that they witnessed the sinking of two Japanese battleships and that two Japanese cruisers were listing badly and seemed about to sink, when the fog obscured their view of the battle.

There seems to be confusion as to the fate of Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky. It is said that he arrived at Vladivostok on the torpedo-boat Buiny, badly wounded, and that his wife has received a telegram from him, while Admiral Togo's report received from Tokyo late Tuesday night at the Japanese Legation at Washington says he was captured on board the Russian destroyer Biedovy, with another admiral, both severely wounded, and with several staff officers of his flagship, the Kniaz Suvaroff, the sinking of which is confirmed by the officers of the Almaz.

OFFICIAL JAPANESE REPORT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

WASHINGTON, May 30.—The official Japanese report on the latest details of the great naval battle in the Korean Straits is made in a cablegram received tonight by the Japanese Legation from the Foreign Office at Tokyo, conveying Admiral Togo's dispatches up to this afternoon.

The report says that Admiral Rojestvensky and another admiral and staff officers were taken prisoners on the sinking of Rojestvensky's flagship, the Kniaz Suvaroff, Saturday night, south of Ureung Island, off the Korean coast.

The total number of vessels lost to the Russians, according to Admiral Togo, now reaches twenty-two and he adds that, although full particulars are not yet in, none of the Japanese ships was seriously injured, and that the loss to the first division of the Japanese fleet was over four hundred.

The report says that the armored cruiser Dmitri Donskoi ran aground on Ureung Island; that the battleships Osliaha and Navarin were sunk; that the battleship Sissoi Veliky went to the bottom Sunday morning; that the coast-defense ship Admiral Oushakoff was sunk after a vigorous pursuit, her crew being rescued, and gives other details as to vessels sunk or disabled.

Japanese Admiral Misu was slightly wounded. The protected cruiser Almaz, which has already arrived at Vladivostok, is referred to in the report as "suspected to have sunk."

TEXT OF TOGO'S DISPATCHES.

The cablegram is as follows: "Fifth report from Togo, received afternoon May 30: 'The main force of our combined fleet, upon accepting surrender of the remaining Russian main force, near Liancourt Rocks, in the afternoon of May 28, as already reported, stopped pursuit and while engaged in the disposition of surrendered ships found in a southwestern direction the Admiral Oushakoff, a coast-defense ship. Thereupon, Iwate and Yakumo were immediately dispatched in pursuit and invited her to surrender, but she refused and was sunk at 6 p.m. Her crew, of over three hundred men, was rescued.

"Cruiser Dmitri Donskoi was also found in the northwestern direction, at 5 p.m., and was immediately overtaken and fired on vigorously by our fourth division and second destroyer flotilla. She was attacked that night by the second destroyer flotilla and the next morning was found aground on the southeastern shore of Ureung Island, off the Korean coast.

CAPTURE OF ROJESTVENSKY.

"Our destroyer Sazanamo captured, toward the evening of May 27, in the south of Ureung Island, the Russian destroyer Biedovy, wherein were found Admiral Rojestvensky and another admiral, both severely wounded, together with eighty Russians, including staff officers from the flagship, Kniaz Suvaroff, which was sunk at 5:29 p.m., May 27. They were all taken prisoners.

"Our cruiser Chitose, while cruising to the northward, on the morning of May 28, found and sunk another Russian destroyer. "Our cruiser Niitaka and destroyer Murakumo attacked, also at noon on May 28, a Russian destroyer, which finally went aground. According to various reports hitherto received and statements of prisoners, the result of the battle, from May 27 to May 29, is as follows:

"Kniaz Suvaroff, Alexander III, Borodino, Dmitri Donskoi, Admiral Nakhimoff, Fonomach, Jemtechug, Admiral Oushakoff, one converted cruiser and two destroyers sunk.

"Nicholas I, Orel, Admiral Apraxine, Admiral Senkavin and

PARIS, May 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It is learned from an unusually well informed source that Dr. Motono, the Japanese Minister, on behalf of his government, has demanded from France, through Foreign Minister Delcasse, the sum of 500,000,000 francs ($100,000,000) as damages for French breaches of neutrality in connection with the voyage of Admiral Rojestvensky's fleet to the Far East and its sojourn in French Asiatic waters.

JAPAN WILL DEMAND SHIPS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, May 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Japan and Russia make peace, it is the general opinion in Washington, Japan will make demand for all the Russian vessels which Togo has forced to find refuge in neutral harbors. The value of these vessels will rise into the millions and Japan will undoubtedly insist upon taking them. There are twenty transports, colliers and small craft around Shanghai and Saigon. The cruiser Lena is interned at San Francisco. If Japan obtains these vessels her fleet at the end of the war will be one of the largest in the world.

destroyer Biedovy captured. According to the prisoners the Osliaha sunk about 3 p.m., and the Navarin also was sunk.

"Almaz, May 27, was observed in a disabled and sinking condition, but her final fate is yet unknown.

INJURIES TO TOGO'S FLEET.

"The full particulars regarding the injury to our ships are not yet in hand, but, so far as I could ascertain, none was seriously injured, all being still engaged in operations. The whole casualties are not yet ascertained. Casualties of first division are little over four hundred. Prince Yorhito is in excellent health. Admiral Misu slightly wounded, May 27.

"Sixth report, received the afternoon of May 30: 'Loss of Osliaha and Navarin confirmed. Sissoi Veliky also definitely reported to have sunk, on the morning of May 28.

TOTAL RUSSIAN LOSS.

"Official statement of Russian losses—so far as ascertained, following six battleships sunk: Kniaz Suvaroff, Emperor Alexander III, Borodino, Osliaha, Sissoi Veliky and Navarin.

"Following five cruisers sunk: Admiral Nakhimoff, Dmitri Donskoi, Vladimir Monomach, Svetlana and Jemtechug.

"Coast-defense ship Admiral Oushakoff sunk.

"Two special service ships, Kamchatka, and three destroyers also sunk.

"Two battleships: Orel and Nicholas I, two coast-defense ships: Admiral Apraxine and Admiral Senkavin, and one destroyer—Biedovy—captured.

"Thus the Russians lost altogether twenty-two ships, the aggregate tonnage whereof amounts to 153,411 tons, besides cruiser Almaz, suspected to have sunk."

TOGO'S BIG SHIPS RETURNING TO SASEBO.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)

TOKIO, May 31, 9 a.m.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The great naval fight is at an end. The battleships are returning to Sasebo. Five of the torpedo-boat flotilla are at Kure. The three cruiser squadrons are on their way into port, probably making Nagasaki, and wireless telegrams tell of a most sweeping success on the sea. Tokio, in the height of its rejoicing last night, was startled to learn, in an official dispatch from Admiral Togo, that every one of the Russian battleships had been sunk, except the two reported capture last Sunday, north-east of Tsushima Straits. This tremendous success was unlooked for, even by the Imperial Navy Board.

What was most pleasing was the announcement by Togo, in his official report of the battle, that the loss in his armored division numbered only 400 in dead and wounded. Rear-Admiral Kataoka, reporting for the torpedo-boat destroyers, puts his losses at 200 and the joyful announcement comes that no ships of the line were seriously damaged in the great conflict.

ONLY TWO ESCAPED.

The only warships known to have escaped are the second-class protected cruisers Almaz and Izumrud, which were badly damaged in the last of the sea fight Sunday evening. They were pursued, but escaped in a heavy mist. In the opinion of Admiral Yamamoto, Minister of the Navy, who has received reports about the Izumrud, that cruiser probably foundered in the Sea of Japan some time in the night.

In addition to the extensive report from Admiral Togo, wireless telegrams from Nagasaki have been relayed to Tokio from Rear Admiral Hosoya, Rear Admiral Kamamura and Rear Admiral Yamada. Their reports account for every vessel in the Russian fleet, except the Almaz and the Izumrud and four of the thirteen torpedo-boat destroyers that attended Rojestvensky's battleships. Five destroyers were sunk and four captured.

Although there are rumors here, discussed in well-informed places, that the Japanese used three submarine boats in attacking the battleships, this cannot be established. The navy has obtained these submarine boats from the United States, but it is doubtful that they could have accomplished anything in the speedy and running fight which began before noon Sunday. The main battleships of the Russian fleet were destroyed more than 130 miles away from where the engagement opened and the truth probably is that the fatal damage was done by giant torpedo-boat destroyers and new torpedo-boat flotillas, under command of Vice-Admiral Tausoda.

FACTS ABOUT TORPEDOES.

Admiral Togo had twenty-two torpedo-boat destroyers, five of them among the largest in the world, in the battle against the Baltic fleet, and of forty-six torpedo-boats, eight were launched after the beginning of the war and have no superiors in any of the world's fleets.

It is certain that the first-class battleship Alexander III was sunk by three torpedo-boat flotillas and four torpedo-boat destroyers under command of Vice-Admiral Tausoda. The report of the picket boat Tsuchiya verifies this. Small Japanese boats ran within half a mile of the great Russian ironclad and assailed her from every side while she was being attacked by three of Japan's first-class armored cruisers. It will probably be found that the same tactics sunk the other Russian battleships of the first class.

TWO SHIPS REACH VLADIVOSTOK

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.)

VLADIVOSTOK, May 30, 4:30 p.m.

THE GREAT WAR.

on Horn, they having separated from the fleet in the early stages of the battle which began in the Korean straits Saturday, and headed, in obedience to orders, with full speed to Vladivostok.

Up to 4 o'clock this afternoon, no other vessel of the Baltic fleet had yet arrived and the signal stations at Asakof and Rimskorskofsk islands reported none in sight.

Officers of the Almaz and Grozny say that both fleets had already sustained terrific losses when the Almaz and Grozny broke through the hostile line.

SAW JAP BATTLESHIPS GO DOWN
Of the Japanese, two battleships had gone down before their eyes, and two cruisers, their sterns high out of the water, seemed ready to plunge foremost to the bottom of the sea.

The Russian fleet, they say, was even in a sadder plight. Rojstven'sky's flagship, the Kniaz Suvarov, and her sister ship, the Borodino, and the Oslavia and the Orel were utterly destroyed, and when the fog closed down and hid the scene of battle from sight, northward of the speeding ships, a third great Russian battleship, the Emperor Alexander III, seemed in sore distress but limping northward, putting up a valiant fight against throngs of torpedo-boats and still continuing her attacks on the cruisers of the island empire.

LIKE ANGERED WASPS.
Torpedo boats were also circling round the other ships of the fleet like angered wasps, separate flotillas darting in again and again to launch their weapons.

The Almaz, which arrived at her anchorage here Monday evening, bears scars of battle. Her mizzenmast is shot away, and one of her smokestacks pierced by a cannon ball.

The Grozny, though engaged for several hours in a running fight at short range with a long Japanese destroyer, shows no signs of the fray. After her commander, Capt. Andrieff, had been wounded and an officer and three men had been killed, the Grozny succeeded in sinking her opponent with a lucky placed shot and reached Vladivostok, without further adventure, at 11 o'clock this morning.

SAYS ROJSTVENSKY IS SAVED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
LONDON, May 30.—The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Standard asserts that Madame Rojstven'sky, wife of the commander of the Russian fleet, has received a telegram from Vladivostok, signed by her husband, saying that he had arrived there on board the cruiser Almaz, and that he was severely wounded in the neck, back and abdomen.

FEEL ASSURED. WIRES TOGO.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
TOKIO, May 30.—Admiral Togo has wired Admiral Yamamoto, Minister of the Navy, as follows:
"The main forces of the Russian, second and third fleets is nearly annihilated. Please feel assured of it."
FOUR MORE REPORTED SUNK.
(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
TOKIO, May 30, 4 p. m.—It is now believed that four Russian warships, in addition to those already reported lost, have been sunk by the Japanese fleet.

RUSSIAN LOSSES ADMITTED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, May 30, 4:50 p. m.—The Admiralty officially admits the sinking of the battleships Kniaz Suvarov, Borodino, Oslavia and Orel and the repair ship Kamchatka. The loss of these vessels was definitely established by Capt. Chagin of the cruiser Almaz.

No statement regarding the ships capture was made.

FIRST DEFINITE RUSSIAN NEWS.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
ST. PETERSBURG, May 30, 3 p. m.—The first definite news from Russian sources of the naval battle fought in the Straits of Korea came from Capt. Chagin of the cruiser Almaz, which has arrived at Vladivostok. He telegraphed to the Emperor that he had witnessed the sinking of the battleship Kniaz Suvarov and reported that Admiral Rojstven'sky was wounded. Capt. Chagin saw Rojstven'sky lowered on board the torpedo-boat destroyer Bulny, and said the Admiral, presumably, was saved. The Bulny, however, had not reached Vladivostok when Capt. Chagin sent his telegram and her whereabouts was not known.

LOVING CUP FOR TOGO.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
NEW YORK, May 30.—A gift, probably in the form of a silver and gold loving cup, will be sent Admiral Togo within a few days by the Japanese residents of this city. This has been decided upon at a meeting of the admirals' countrymen in connection with the proposed plan for a big celebration of the sea victory, to take place some night this week. Carnegie Hall probably will be chosen for the meeting. A minor celebration will be held Thursday evening at the Japanese clubhouse in Eighty-third street, when a reception will be tendered to Baron Kaneo and K. Takahashi. The latter, who tested the recent government loan, will leave soon for Japan. Business among the Japanese commercial houses is almost suspended while the victory of Togo is celebrated.

"If peace is declared," said Mr. Takahashi, "it is likely another large loan will be floated to take up the present loan at a cheaper rate of interest. The first loans were made on a percentage basis, the second loan at 4 1/2 per cent, and I believe a cheaper rate of interest can be had."

BRITISH STEAMER RETAKEN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
NAGASAKI, May 30, 10 a. m.—The British steamer Oidham, with a kerosene cargo, for Yokohama, which was captured by the Russians, May 19, has been retaken by the Japanese warships. The captain of the Oidham, the engineer and two of the crew were also rescued. The steamer was taken Saturday and brought to Sasebo today.

TOGO LAID COMPLETE TRAP FOR RUSSIANS.

From Most Fragmentary Reports It Is Gleaned That Japanese Outmaneuvered, Out-fought and Out-shot Rojstven'sky's Men.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)

TOKIO, May 30, 10:30 a. m.—[By Pacific Cable.] The proverb that Admiral Togo always fights and seldom reports is proving true in the case of his greatest battle. From the briefest and most fragmentary reports coming to Tokio it is impossible to gain an approximate conception or picture of the desperate and decisive combat.

The Navy Department, after announcing the bare results, yesterday has lapsed into silence again. It meets inquiries with the statement that the department is not interested in the publication of news, but is concerned only in securing victory for Japan.

It is probable that many details of the fight will never be given to the world. It will probably be days and weeks before the main facts of the battle and its strategy are made known. Admiral Togo appears to have planned and laid a complete trap which fitted Admiral Rojstven'sky's action, and that the Japanese outmaneuvered, out-fought and out-shot the Russians, fearlessly taking their lightest cruizers, against the heavy Russian armored battleships, and joining battleships with armored cruisers, smothering them with gunfire.

USE OF SUBMARINES.

Tremendous interest attaches to the use of submarine vessels. The Navy Department is silent on this point, but it is confidently believed that submarines were effectively used for the first time in history. Theoretically, the sea was too rough for the employment of submarines Saturday, but the Japanese sailors welcome desperate chances. It is believed that torpedo boats and destroyers scored heavily Saturday night. The conditions on Sunday were most favorable. Mechanics employed at industrial plants and land was visible for forty miles across the Straits.

HUNDREDS OF REFUGEES.

Hundreds of Russian refugees who landed on Tsu Islands and neighboring provinces are coming to Sasebo and Maizuru. Many of them are wounded and are otherwise suffering from the terrible ordeal of the long battle. Branches of the Red Cross and government hospitals are sheltering and treating them.

It is believed that the fighting ended Monday. A search of the sea is in progress today. Again jubilant today, hundreds of callers and deputations through the Navy Department, offering thanks and congratulations.

Admiral Togo has gained a place beside Nelson.

SINKING OF THE KAMCHATKA.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
TOKIO, May 30.—Noon: A warrant officer of the Russian repair ship Kamchatka, who landed at Moji, says:

"Our fleet entered the Straits of Korea numbering thirty-six vessels. The Kamchatka received several shots and was partly disabled. Finally a shot struck a vital part and sixty men entered boats. When they were nearly clear, a great explosion occurred and the ship sunk. The captain and seven other officers were killed during the battle. Two officers were wounded and two jumped overboard. Three other officers were drowned."

"We could see our battleships to the northward enveloped by the Japanese. Suddenly they were badly damaged."

SINKING OF THE NAKHIMOFF.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
TOKIO, May 30, 6 a. m.—Capt. Roshinoff, commander of the Russian armored cruiser Admiral Nakhimoff, and other survivors have been brought to Moji. The Admiral Nakhimoff was sunk near Tsu Island Saturday, seemingly by a submarine vessel.

Capt. Roshinoff says his vessel was entering the Straits with the fleet. Suddenly, there was a tremendous explosion and the cruiser was completely and speedily sank, carrying a majority of her crew to death. Capt. Roshinoff reached a damaged steam launch and was picked up Sunday. The other survivors were rescued.

Repeated torpedo attacks were delivered, some of them with greatest success.

HOW TOGO DID IT.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
LONDON, May 30.—According to the correspondent of the Daily News at Seoul, Korea, early Saturday morning, the Japanese fleet, with practically all the powerful fighting ships of the Japanese navy, was at Masampo, Korea, when wireless signals from his scouts between Tsu and Quelpert islands announced the approach of the Russian fleet in full force.

A few hours later, the scouts reported that the Russian fleet was ascending the western channel, as had been anticipated, but that they were coming in by the eastern channel, which caused some surprise.

Admiral Togo immediately started at full speed toward the north of Tsu Island, and the Russian fleet was seen to be driven toward the south.

He then brought a terrific bombardment on the Russian fleet, and, as the Russians fled in confusion, he forced them steadily toward the south, toward the Japanese coast, where they were attacked by every vessel that flew the Japanese flag.

Repeated torpedo attacks were delivered, some of them with greatest success.

BATTERED TRANSPORT PUTS IN.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
SHANGHAI, May 30.—The Russian transport Korea arrived here this morning, apparently from the Straits of Korea, with a big shot hole in her side and her boats shot away. The Russian fleet about Saseo had already arrived at Wonsung from Jibuti, French Somaliland.

LAME RUSSIANS RIGHTED.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
NAGASAKI, May 30, 11 a. m.—The Russian war vessels seen and reported by the Occidental and Oriental Company steamer Doric, which has arrived here, were the Isurum, a cruiser of the Aurora class, and a gunboat, probably the Kazarisky. The latter was leaking. Fighting continues off Okino Island.

SUBMARINES HELPED TOGO.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.—P.M.)
NEW YORK, May 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George H. White, who was associated with John P. Holland in the construction of four submarine boats which were built in Jersey City, says these boats wrecked the Russian fleet.

It will be recalled that there was considerable excitement over a shipment of alleged machinery for Japan that went over the Canadian Pacific last spring. There were rumors that Russian spies had attempted to blow up the train containing this consignment.

White said today these mysterious packages contained four Holland submarines for the Japanese government. They were accompanied to Tokio by a corps of skilled American engineers and mechanics employed at fabulous salaries, not only to put the boats together at a secret Japanese shipyard, but to operate them in the next naval battle.

White says the boats were launched May 10 and that they proved more than satisfactory in trial tests. They were equipped with improved torpedo tubes and also with searchlights for use when moving beneath the surface. Togo, White says, placed them in the hands of the Japanese, and then his chief dependence in destroying the squadron of Rojstven'sky.

POWERS GET LESSONS.

(BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.)
WASHINGTON, May 30.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the opinion of many naval officers in Washington, the Japanese navy is stronger today than any other in the world. While it is not equal to some navies in battery power, the lack of strength on this score is more than balanced by the experience of its personnel, its superior tactics, its speed, its maneuverability and its ability to handle guns and vessels. The same condition exists with Japan today which existed for a few months after the Spanish war, when the United States had a strong navy, an excellent fighting condition, and was in a state of complete preparedness.

When all the details of the engagement in the Korean Strait become known, it is probable many changes of policy and plans will be made in the navies of the various powers. Togo is known to have had a number of submarines in his fleet, and the engagement of Saturday and Sunday was the first time a submarine was used in a naval battle.

cession of Albert Fossick, the solicitor, who said that the $62,000 trust fund he is accused of having stolen was lent to Mrs. Potter for her theatrical ventures, which recently failed. Mrs. Potter denies that Fossick made her any unsecured loans; but, on the contrary, it is claimed he demanded and received ample security and that he charged a heavy rate of interest.

When tranquillity is restored to Chicago, it may invite one of the Chicago University professors to enlighten the public upon the profound sociological question, "Which is the greater menace to a city's wellbeing, a gentleman with a brick in his hat, or a strike breaker with a brick in his fist?"—(Philadelphia Press.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Rural Burglary.

Anton M. Akkerman, who resides half a mile east of the Raymond Hotel, reported to the police yesterday that his house was entered by daylight burglars, who ransacked the rooms and secured a watch and two pairs of opera glasses. Eleven Nurses.

Eleven nurses will graduate from the training school of the County Hospital Thursday night. The commencement exercises will be held at Blanchard's Hall at 8 o'clock. The class will be addressed by Rev. Robert Fisher and Dr. Joseph Kurtz.

Coaling Merchant Arrested.

Max Cohen, a former merchant of Coalinga, was arrested by Detectives Davis and Roberts yesterday at a fugitive from justice. Cohen recently disposed of his business in the Fresno county town, where he is alleged to have obtained a considerable sum of money under false pretenses. He will be sent to Coalinga for trial.

Hotel Thief.

Ben Jones, a negro formerly employed as a stationery clerk at the Hotel Rosslyn, is in the City Jail charged with burglary. Early yesterday morning several rooms occupied by Jones were searched by the police. A gold watch was one of the articles stolen and Detective Hawley and Murray traced it to Main street, where it was pawned by a negro answering Jones' description. Several coats and other items were also found when the detectives have not yet located.

Latest Burglaries.

James Powers and Harry Knickens two men whose records are decidedly unsavory, were arrested yesterday by Patrolman Randolph. Two burglaries are charged to them and both have confessed. Yesterday morning the cash drawer of J. Fisher, No. 401 Central avenue, was rifled of $34.50 in small change. Of John A. Schmidt, No. 211 1/2 East Fifth street, was also entered, and the burglars secured $95 from a trunk. Suspicion fell on Powers and Knickens, and when they were placed under arrest $14.50 of the money was found in their pockets.

Sprinkling Wagon Accident.

Frank Palmer, driver of the sprinkling wagon that was wrecked by a South Main street car at Adams and Main streets early yesterday morning, is in a serious condition. He was removed from the Receiving Hospital to the California Hospital yesterday afternoon. His injuries, which are internal, may prove complicated, and his death is not improbable. Palmer was driving one of the city sprinkling carts on South Main street, and he pulled across the tracks directly in front of a rapidly-moving car. His two horses were killed, his wagon was reduced to kindling wood, and Palmer and a companion, Ed Abel, were thrown out and injured.

Chicago Chinaman Arrested.

Chung Jung Yung, who is said to be a wily Chinaman from Chicago, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Detectives McKelvie and Cowen upon request of Chief of Police O'Neill of Chicago, who says he holds a warrant for Chung's arrest on a charge of forgery. Chung came to Los Angeles six weeks ago, and has apparently been living by his wits. In Chinatown he was received in the most exclusive social circles, where he soon became a prime favorite. The arrest of Chung and the charge of forgery came as a cruel surprise to local Celestial society, but like their accidental deaths, there were many who did not bask in the smiles of Mr. Chung, and these said "I told you so." The forgery of a name of a prominent and wealthy restaurant keeper of the Windy City to a check for $500, is charged to Chung's account.

BREVITIES.

The volume of "Liners" in the Sunday Times has become so great that it is found necessary to ask patrons to get their Sunday advertisements in earlier; especially Sunday real estate announcements, which in order to be printed must be in the office not later than 10 o'clock Saturday night. The printing of all real estate matter, including advertisements, in a part of itself on Sundays involves somewhat slower press work, making it essential, in order to get the paper out on time, to stop receiving real estate ads at 10 o'clock Saturday night. Dealers will confer a favor on The Times office if they will turn in Sunday copy on Friday; when possible, or at least a part of it, and the balance early on Saturday. Sunday "Want" ads will still be received by phone and over the counter until 11 o'clock Saturday night.

The quality of our kodak finishing like Eastman Kodaks, is the highest type of perfection. Don't trust to luck and leave your films with everyone who has a sign out. Your efforts to get good results will be rewarded, and they will blame you, not themselves. Agency Eastman Kodaks. Look for the red seal. 308 South Spring street.

Lost—a large, young dog, Great Dane and Mastiff mixed; black with white on breast; answers to name of "Nero"; disappeared from No. 2401 Wilshire boulevard (The Wilshire) last Saturday morning. Finder please return him there or leave information at The Times business office, and receive reward.

The ladies' rest room on the top floor of the new wing of the Times' Building is open daily from 9 to 5. Ladies from town or country will find this a convenient place to write, rest or read. Stationery provided for correspondence. Both 'phones available. Take elevator in business office. All are welcome.

Notice to Taxpayers.

To the taxpayers of Los Angeles county: Notice is hereby given to avoid the necessity of an arbitrary assessment being made by this office on June 1, 1925, that all taxes due for 1924 must be paid not later than Saturday, June 1, at 12 o'clock noon. If the deputy has missed you, come to the office not later than this week. This applies more particularly to owners of realty. Remember, also, the time is close at hand when the county will attach for nonpayment of realty taxes. If it should cost you $2 or $3, please don't pay. We will make the law, nor are we to be blamed for your procrastination. You have received notice of "Real" tax and personal property "tax" due, call and settle at once, and avoid penalties for failure to pay. Respectfully, J. E. WARD, County Assessor.

ROAD MAY BE BUILT SOME DAY.

ROUTE FROM SAN DIEGO TO THE EAST SURVEYED.

Children's Part in Memorial Day Programme—Prospector Jewell Who Was Given up for Lost Returns to Mexican Town from Which He Started.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

SAN DIEGO, May 29.—H. T. Richards, civil engineer, who has been in the field several months, surveying the city end of what is proposed as the coast terminal for a railroad from San Diego eastward, has filed his map with the City Clerk. The map shows a main line and several branches. The main line skirts the bay shore from National City line northward, touching at Old Town, False Bay, La Jolla and Del Mar. The branch lines are up Mission Valley, Roseville and La Playa, Ocean Beach and Point Loma Heights. According to the terms of the franchise, work must be commenced within thirty days.

TO RESTORE LICENSE.

The Health and Morals Committee of the City Council has recommended that the license to run a saloon in the Horton House be restored, giving Ben Chase, the proprietor, power to do business, the same as before the violation of the law relative to closing-up time. City Attorney Andrews has notified the committee that Chase has not complied with the anti-screen law, and that he is subject to prosecution for selling malt liquor while conducting a "temperance" saloon.

Mayor Sehon has appointed Dr. T. C. Stockton, a member of the Board of Health, succeeding Dr. P. C. Remondino. He has also reappointed Dr. A. F. Burnham.

PATRIOTIC CHILDREN.

A feature of today's Memorial Day parade was the turnout of 400 school children, each carrying an American flag. As they marched they sang patriotic songs, gave the class yell, and made things interesting generally. The parade was one of the best ever seen here. At the Isis Theater, where the literary exercises were held, the orators were Patterson Springs, James Thompson of Illinois and Dr. J. C. Hearne, the latter representing the Confederate Veterans, which organization was represented in all parts of the observance. This afternoon was devoted to the decoration of graves at Mt. Hope Cemetery.

MISSING MAN FOUND.

Word has been received of the finding of Luther H. Jewell at a mining camp, near Mazatlan, Sonora, Mex. It was feared that he had been murdered by the Indians. Jewell, who is a brother of Col. Fred Jewell of this city, left Mazatlan for a three days' prospecting tour, and has been absent two weeks. It develops that he lost his way, and that he suffered much from hunger and exposure. Col. Jewell had gone to Sonora to assist in the search.

CORONADO BEACH.

MANY NORTHERN VISITORS.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.) HOTEL DEL CORONADO, May 29.—Mrs. W. D. K. Gibson and family party arrived from San Francisco last evening, the members including Miss Grace Gibson, Master Walter Gibson, Marie Huntington Spreckels, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Spreckels, Jr., Mrs. Spreckels will be here later. Other arrivals last evening included Mrs. A. Farrel and Miss Katherine Farrel, San Francisco.

Mr. Flournoy and Mrs. O. A. Andras, wife and daughter of M. N. Flournoy of Albuquerque, N. M., former patrons here, have taken apartments at the hotel for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Hambleton of Cleveland, O., have returned from a several weeks' sojourn at Alpine, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. C. Krider. Mr. Krider is expected from the East with a party of friends the latter part of the week.

W. H. Moore, who is touring the inland States and Territories in its interests, states that all indications point to a large patronage at Tent City this season.

CAR KILLS HORSES.

Collision With Sprinkling Wagon Fatal to Team—Driver and Companion Hurt.

Frank Palmer, driver of a sprinkling wagon, pulled his team directly in front of a rapidly-moving main-street car at Adams and Main streets early yesterday morning, thereby causing an accident in which both horses were killed and Palmer and Edward Abel were painfully injured. Eyewitnesses say the accident was caused by Palmer's negligence.

Car No. 333, in charge of Motorman Pagler, was running swiftly down Main street, near Adams street, when Palmer, who was driving in the same direction, started to pull across the track. The horses and the front portion of the wagon were struck a crushing blow by the car, and hurried several feet. On the box seat Palmer and his friend, Abel, were perched. Both were thrown to one side.

Palmer was picked up in a dazed condition, with numerous cuts and bruises about the head and body. Abel sustained a severe scalp wound. Both men were sent to the Receiving Hospital. Palmer is in a dangerous condition, as he sustained severe internal injuries.

Too Much for Her Memory.

"You bad man," exclaimed the flustering hostess. "You've kept everybody waiting."

"Pardon me," replied the young poet. "I have been loitering on the slopes of Helicon."

"Helicon? Where's that? Another of those new north-shore places? I never can remember the funny names they give them these days up that way." (Chicago Record-Herald.)

THE OYSTERS KNEW.

Has Opened Their Shelves When Tide Changed, Though Far from Sea.

Philadelphia Bulletin: "Oysters soon be done now," said the oyster opener. "Are you interested in oysters?"

The oyster opener shook his head unsympathetically.

"No, John," he said.

"Well, any time you want something about oysters, I'll tell you something about oysters."

January we got a fine lot of oysters from the river. I was looking at those oysters one afternoon, when one of them opened his mouth.

"Simultaneous click," the oyster opener said. "The mouths of the oysters are all open."

"That's the best thing I ever saw. They stayed open 10 minutes or more."

"Then they closed again."

"The next day, a little later in the afternoon, the oysters opened their mouths again. The next day, a little later still, they did the same thing."

Bonds' Grocery Store Looted by Faithless Spouse.

Decamped With Her Par amour Last Saturday.

Husband Was in East to Aid Invalid Mother.

That was a cruel welcome home which fell to the lot of William Bond, grocer, last Sunday, when he returned from the East with his invalid mother. When Bond arrived at the grocery store and living-rooms, at the north-west corner of Ninth and Wall streets, he found, instead of a loving welcome from the wife he had left in charge when he started East three weeks before, that the woman had shamefully deserted him; had decamped with a man of unsavory reputation in the neighborhood, and that not content with this wrong, she had looted the store and household, and had made away with the cash in hand.

The mother of Mr. Bond was ill in Milwaukee, and he was sent for to look after her. When she became better he was advised by the physicians to bring her to Los Angeles, and he started for this city as soon as she was able to travel.

Mrs. Bond, who was in full charge of the business here, had expected her husband to be absent several months. He wrote her of his intentions to go East once, and as soon as she could pack her trunks after receiving the letter, she decamped with the man who had been her paramour since her husband's absence.

She left a note. It read: "Dear William, I'm going—going forever—going never to return. I've met one who loves better than yourself, so never expect me back. Good-bye."

Prisoners of the wife were made aware of the unfaithfulness of his wife soon after he had started East. One of them discovered McCarty, with whom she was infatuated, and she was driven him out with a revolver.

It is said McCarty and the woman have carried on their love-making in the store, under the counter, and that McCarty was completely outfitted by the woman, she having bought him a spring suit, patent leather shoes, etc.

Bond's letter was received by her on Friday, and she at once prepared to leave with McCarty. Her trunks were shipped to San Francisco, and on Saturday they went to Long Beach and later to San Pedro, where they took a boat for the North.

A systematic looting of the store and stock had been going on, and Bond says a large bulk of the goods had been carried away. He thinks those who were disposed of to some small shop-keepers at prices so far below cost that they took them and asked no questions.

The woman sold two bicycles belonging to her husband, and drew out of the savings bank what money he had. Yesterday it was discovered that she had run accounts at various other business houses, without her husband being aware of the fact, and that altogether she had gotten away with about $700 in money and property.

When Mrs. Bond and McCarty left the city they placed in charge of the store a man, who, Bond says, had the appearance of a tramp, a perfect stranger to him, and who could make no account for the money supposed to come in for sales. Bond declares he had a business which ran about $25 a day.

Mrs. Bond had been married before, and has four children by her first husband. They are cared for at the home of their grandparents in the East. She was several years older than Bond.

He has been employed as a baggage man at the Santa Fe station, and looking after the store mornings and evenings, leaving his wife in charge during the regular working hours.

Bond's neighbors express sympathy for him. He has been particularly unfortunate in this business venture, as shortly after he purchased the place he discovered that the stock was mortgaged, and the store was attached by the Board of Trade for debts amounting to $250. In order to save his business Bond had to pay this sum, and had just gotten the business in a prosperous condition when he was called East by the illness of his mother.

He declares he will stick to the concern and will soon have matters in shape financially again.

Photographs of Mrs. Bond and accurate descriptions of her companion have been sent to San Francisco and other Northern cities, and it is believed the couple will be apprehended within a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Bond have been married two years. He declares they always got on well together, and that he had no suspicion of any possibility of trouble when he left his wife in charge of the store and went East.

ARE FIREBUGS WORKING HERE?

EVIDENT ATTEMPT TO BURN MAIN STREET BUILDING.

Two Fires Discovered in Rooms of Lodging-house, and Serious Damage Narrowly Averted—Chinaman's Home in Highland Park Also Believed to Have Been Set Afire.

Incendiaries were at work in Los Angeles early yesterday morning, and that there were not two conflagrations was not due to lack of effort on the part of the firebugs.

At 2:30 o'clock a. m. smoke was seen issuing from a lodging-house at No. 412½ North Main street, which is conducted by Mrs. C. M. McNally. Patrolman Bolles ran up the steps and found a blaze in one of the front rooms, which was unoccupied. Before another in a rear room. An alarm was sent in and a chemical crew put out the fire before it gained headway. Only the prompt response of the department and quick work on the part of the men prevented a serious fire, for the building is an old affair constructed of flimsy material, and adjoining buildings are of the same character.

The police and firemen investigated the premises and found that a deliberate attempt had been made to fire the building in at least two places. Oil-soaked rags and wicks were in several of the rooms. Only two women were in the building at the time. They said they were asleep and knew nothing of the fire until the department arrived. The damage amounted to $200.

Wong Ching, a Chinaman occupying a cottage at No. 121 West Avenue 88, awoke shortly before 1 o'clock yesterday morning to find his home a mass of flames. He ran to the Garvanza engine-house, only a few hundred feet distant, and summoned assistance. The cottage was burning fiercely and was nearly destroyed before water could be turned on. Evidence pointing toward incendiaries was discovered. The police are investigating both cases.

CATALINA ISLAND.
HOTEL PROPERTY SELLS.

AVALON, May 30.—The deal transferring the Grand View Hotel property is closed. The full reported amount of $35,000 cash has been paid over. Mr. Weaver, the retiring manager, and son Clarence left the island on today's steamer. Ralph Weaver and his mother will remain here for a few days. There are nine men composing the new firm to control the property. The personnel is composed of M. E. Finnegan, Dan Murphy, John Brink, Col. Ed Dunham, J. P. Finnegan, Dan Jerns, W. C. Clure, C. H. Herron and C. D. Richardson.

JOKE ON THE JOKER.

There has been something doing in Postmaster Flint's party every minute since it arrived Saturday night, and it all led up to the climax today, when Leo Youngworth was decoyed out in a boat and was seized with violence and malice aforethought and thrown bodily into the sea. Like McGinty, he was "dressed in his best suit of clothes." All the other pranks were condoned, but Youngworth got busy last evening with a pass key, and when the bunch sought their downy couches there was consternation. He found his bedding in the attic; others found theirs on the roof and other impossible places, and the honest postmaster found his down in the bar. Usually the drinks "went," but Youngworth did not get away so easily. He went into the "drink" badly.

DECORATE LITTLE PLOT.

The little island cemetery was visited this morning and the few graves were bedecked with flowers.

COVINA.

DIVIDING THE PROFITS.

COVINA, May 30.—Manager G. N. Atwood, of the Covina Highland Citrus Union, will distribute among the members of the Association this week over $10,000, being a pro-rate of $3 cents a box for oranges shipped during the third week.

Appropriate Memorial exercises were held yesterday afternoon in both the Grammar and High School buildings. Capt. N. D. Massey delivered an interesting address before the pupils of the High School and Maj. J. B. Raymond made a rousing patriotic speech to the various classes of the grammar grades.

The ladies of the Covina Monday Afternoon Club held their annual stockholders meeting yesterday evening at the following officers and directors: Mrs. J. H. Elliott, president; Mrs. A. P. Kerckhoff, Mrs. J. I. Cook, Mrs. C. A. Plant, Mrs. E. C. Fraith, Mrs. Clarence Meneffe, Mrs. A. L. Hamilton, Mrs. A. Burpee and Miss M. Sturtevant. The old board retired after a busy and successful year's work having erected during this period a commodious club home at a cost of nearly $6000.

SAN PEDRO.

TWO INJURED BY EXPLOSION.

SAN PEDRO, May 30.—Oscar Peterson, a fireman of the Southern Pacific and Ed Morris, foreman of a grading crew for the Pacific Electric Railway were severely injured this morning by an explosion of dynamite.

Several charges of dynamite had been placed in the bluff near the San Pedro Lumber Company's office and had been touched off. Thinking that all the blasting was done, the two men advanced when suddenly another explosion occurred. Rocks and dirt were blown into the faces of the two men and it is feared that Peterson may lose his eyesight as a result of his injuries.

ASLEEP BY THE SEA.

Memorial Day was appropriately celebrated here today. The local post of the Grand Army and the Woman's Relief Corps at 8 o'clock proceeded to Harbor View Cemetery where the graves were decorated. Returning at 10 o'clock they were joined by several hundred school children carrying flags and flowers and all marched to the plaza, where public exercises were held. A handsome monument was decorated and a memorial address delivered by Hon. J. V. B. Goodrich. The national songs were sung by the children.

This afternoon the post and corps and friends went to Wilmington over the Pacific Electric, and the graves in the Wilmington Cemetery were decorated.

HE EXPECTED TO BE SLAIN.

But Mystery Shrouds Murder of Frank Amey.

Wound at Base of Brain the Cause of Death.

Police Baffled on Every Hand in Probing.

Impenetrable mystery surrounds the murder of Frank B. Amey, the cement worker, who was found with his skull crushed near Sunset boulevard and Grand avenue Monday night.

That Amey was brutally killed the police are convinced, but they have been baffled at every turn since they began efforts to unravel the tangled skein which envelops the affair.

The most important of yesterday's developments was the finding of a wound at the base of the brain of the dead man. Autopsy Surgeon Campbell made the discovery during the post-mortem examination. It was found that the skull had been crushed by the use of some blunt instrument, and that this wound caused death. In the opinion of the doctor, the wound in the forehead may have been caused by a fall, but it certainly was not responsible for Amey's death.

In the new light of the investigations the police are now inclined to believe that Amey was assaulted from the rear by a murderous highwayman or probably an enemy and slugged before he had opportunity to resist or make an outcry. If robbery was the motive the murderer secured little for his crime, for acquaintances of Amey say he could not have had more than a few dollars in his pockets.

Detectives worked all night Monday and throughout yesterday on the mysterious case. They found that Amey visited several saloons prior to the discovery during the post-mortem examination. It was found that the skull had been crushed by the use of some blunt instrument, and that this wound caused death. In the opinion of the doctor, the wound in the forehead may have been caused by a fall, but it certainly was not responsible for Amey's death.

A feature of the dark crime, which is looked upon by the police as of significance is the fact that Amey apparently anticipated being downed by a woman of the underworld in Baker's field last October, he remarked to a friend: "Well, I suppose somebody will get me that way before long." Questioned as to what he meant, Amey said: "Oh, there's a fellow who has got it in for me, and I don't think they would hesitate to do me dirt if they had an opportunity."

Amey's brother, William, was closely questioned by the police, but he showed a woeful lack of knowledge of Frank's habits and companions. Nor did he appear to be greatly interested in bringing the murderer to justice.

An inquest will be held at Pierce Bros. morgue this afternoon.

March of the Trolley.

"The rivalry of the trolley lines, especially between Chicago and St. Louis, is cutting into railway traffic so seriously that many of the railroads are reducing the number of local trains, and in other cases making special rates between points where their right of way is along that of a trolley road," said F. L. Euge, Chicago, at the Davidson Hotel. "Nearly every road west and southwest from Chicago is now coming with the trolley lines that radiate out through Illinois, Aurora, Joliet, Ottawa, La Salle, Bloomington, Rockford, and Freeport are now all tapped by trolley lines that have, or will soon have, connections with the Chicago lines. The extensive suburban service that the Burlington, Rock Island, Northwestern, and Alton roads used to maintain has been greatly curtailed, and it seems to be only a question of time until it will be abandoned entirely. The only remedy, from the railroad standpoint, seems to be to tap the trolley companies with their own dirt and do as the New York Central is now doing out of New York in substituting electricity for steam. Short hauls at rapid intervals can be made on a paying basis in no other way." [Milwaukee Sentinel.]

GOOD SPRINGS NEVADA

The Best Mining Town in Southern Nevada
REACHED BY THE SALT LAKE ROUTE

Town Lots
$50 to $200 Each

Over 30 Producing Mines There Now

Good Springs is directly on that rich mineral zone extending from Tonopah, through Goldfield, Bullfrog, Good Springs, Eldorado, Searchlight and on into Arizona. Mines in the Good Springs district have been paying for 15 years.

The Only Water Supply for 18 Miles

Is located at Good Springs Township and nowhere else in that district can water be obtained.

Its Resources Are The Surrounding Mines

and the miners and freighters must depend upon Good Springs forever for water and supplies. Its water supply makes it the only possible residence and business place for the wage earners of the entire district, and its marvelous mining resources, insure the permanence and prosperity of the town.

Through Stage Service To Bullfrog

Is now being contracted for, and will soon be in operation. This is the shortest, quickest, cheapest and most direct route to the Bullfrog-Goldfield country and will be an additional source of revenue to every business in Good Springs.

Mining Camps Are The Best Business Centers

Wages are high, money is plentiful and freely spent. Don't wait until you have to pay four or five times the present price of lots in order to get in. Remember that the area possible for residence and business purposes is limited and values will very rapidly increase, owing to the tremendous mining developments going on in this district.

LAS VEGAS,

Nevada

The gateway to the great gold regions of Nevada. Bargains in CLARK'S LAS VEGAS TOWNSITE. ONLY A FEW LEFT

We are selling lots cheap in this townsite. You must be quick in order to take advantage of the rapidly increasing values. Lots that were bought at auction prices on May 15th have sold for 100 per cent. advance, and the demand for building material has been greater than can be shipped in. Las Vegas is the natural gateway to the richest mineral territory the world has ever known. Thousands of tons of freight and hundreds of people are going through this place to Bullfrog, Rhyolite, Beatty and Goldfield. The Nevada Rapid Transit Co. will start work Thursday with 300 men on the new automobile road to Bullfrog. This will be the main division of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake R.R. from Los Angeles to Salt Lake. Contracts are being let by the R.R. Co. for Roundhouse, Station and Shops. The Depot, which will be located on this townsite, will be on the Mission style, similar to the Depots of that R.R. at Pomona and Riverside. The Armour car lines have constructed an immense icing plant. There are already about 2000 people there, and since the auction about 100 buildings have been built. There are three banks, one having been established over a month has a deposit of over $70,000. The Las Vegas Land and Water Company have arranged a complete water service for domestic and fire purposes, and will grade, curb and oil all the streets in the townsite and establish a complete electric lighting plant. The Salt Lake Railroad will do everything that is possible to encourage the upbuilding of the town. The Borax Smith Company commenced work Monday, May 29th, on the railroad from Las Vegas to Bullfrog.

We refer you to any official of the Salt Lake Railroad as to our standing and as to the lots we are offering. For further information call on or address Chris N. Brown, Manager.

FIGHT LONG
AND BLOODY.Russian Officers Figure Out
How Togo Won.Now Have Their Own Version of Naval Disaster.Increased Scenes of Grief Witnessed at Admiralty.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.)

ST. PETERSBURG, May 30, 3 p.m.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The naval officers have been able to reconstruct a fair idea of the long and bloody sea fight. They figure that Admiral Togo, with his main squadron, must have lain somewhere off the coast of Korea while Admiral Kamimura and Uru held their squadrons further north, to head off the Russian vessels which might go through to bar the entrance to the Straits of Tsugaru, in case the Russians should be reported moving up the east coast of Japan.

When Togo's scouts reported that Admiral Rojestvensky was heading for the eastern channel of the Straits of Korea the Japanese admiral steamed around the northern end of the island and came upon the Russians, steaming in double column, with the cruisers to port.

Togo enjoyed the great advantage of tactical position when he opened fire, having the lightest of the Russian ships between him and Rojestvensky's heavier vessels, thus smothering the fire of the latter. Besides, Togo was able to use all his broadsides, whereas the sternmost ships of the Russian columns, coming on in line-ahead formation, could probably only with difficulty use any guns at all. Nevertheless, although suffering the complete loss of four ships in the desperate encounter which followed, and being subjected to a series of torpedo attacks Saturday night, Rojestvensky was able to steam 200 miles during the night.

"SAVE HIMSELF WHO CAN." When Sunday morning came, the Russian fleet was divided into two divisions. The faster and stronger division under Rojestvensky was met by Kamimura and Uru, while the lower division, under Nebogatoff, renewed the fight with Togo. With some of the scattered Russian units, it was a case of "save himself who can."

In the running fight yesterday the Japanese enjoyed the advantage of superior speed, enabling them to concentrate their fire and bring every crippled Russian ship to bay. Admiral Nebogatoff's battered remnants surrendered off Liancourt Rocks, while Rojestvensky, with the best remaining battleships, fought on for the honor of the Russian navy.

The admiralty learned with a sense of relief that the flagship Kniaz Suvaroff sank under the Russian flag. The Russian commander-in-chief, the surrender of Nebogatoff's two battleships, even though the circumstances are not yet known, is regarded as a disgrace.

The ships still unaccounted for here are the battleship Navarin and the protected cruiser Oleg, Aurora and Isaurand, all fast vessels.

Private dispatches from Vladivostok say the Russians lost twelve warships, sunk and captured, during the engagement. According to these reports the Japanese torpedo boats played the principal role in the defeat of the Russian fleet. They were sent in for action again and again, under a perfect hail of shot from the Russian rapid-fire guns. More than one-half of the Japanese flotilla of torpedo boats was sunk.

PUBLIC STILL IN DARK. (BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) ST. PETERSBURG, May 30, noon. A long cipher dispatch reached Emperor Nicholas during the night, but its contents have not yet been made public. It is unofficially stated that several of the fastest Russian ships succeeded in shaking off their pursuers and have reached Vladivostok, and that the government is now in possession of its own version of the naval disaster of Saturday and Sunday in the Straits of Korea. Nevertheless, it appears to be in a quandary as to how to break the news to the country. A war council was held at Tsarskoe-Selo last night at which the Emperor was urged to issue an imperial manifesto, but nothing has yet been decided.

So far as the newspapers are concerned the public might believe Vice-Admiral Rojestvensky had achieved a victory. The censor passed all the vague rumors favorable to the Russians, but blue penciled everything indicating a Russian disaster. While the disastrous news spread like wildfire by word of mouth over the capital, and was quickly telegraphed privately to the big centers by the anti-government leaders, the country can be said to be still in a state of ignorance as to what has happened.

The editors of the Liberal papers here, being conversant with the contents of the Tokio dispatches, warn their readers in a roundabout fashion against harboring false hopes based upon dispatches which appear in their news columns.

The Bourne Gazette quite openly declares it would be a sin to conceal the fact that all hope of Russia obtaining the mastery of the sea has vanished. It adds: "The significance of the collapse of this hope is self-evident." The Novoe Vremya and the Russ, while admitting that the fate of the Far East has been decided, decline to accept the Japanese reports. Their editorials, however, breathe a tone of utter sadness.

INCREASED SCENES OF GRIEF. The scenes of grief witnessed at the Admiralty yesterday were repeated in an increased measure today. Wives, mothers, and sisters, many of them already in deepest mourning for other losses, streamed through the Admiralty corridors, sending in written requests for information regarding the fate of particular ships. One and all were informed that the Admiralty had no details, but attempts were made to reassure those who had relatives on the ships not reported sunk by the Japanese.

On the streets, passers-by gathered before the bulletin board to peruse the dispatches, but they learned little as the government still refuses to permit the publication of the Tokio dispatches giving the names of the ships lost and other details of the battle, though authorizing Togo's announcement of the defeat of the Russian fleet, to prepare the public for fuller news. Portions of the dispatches sent from Vladivostok by Capt. Chagin of the cruiser Almaz, may be given out for publication in the morning papers here tomorrow.

According to the Foreign Office, the conversation of Ambassador Count Cassini with President Roosevelt, in which the question of the political constructions which might be placed on Secretary Taft's prospective visit to Japan and the Philippines was raised, sensational accounts of which were telegraphed to Europe, was entirely unofficial and not upon instructions from the Russian government. The janitor has an easier time making the rent than the tenant has. I heard the old man say the other day that he thought it was a great mistake for landlords to rent the best corners on the retail business streets to banks. He claims the banks never light up their premises at night and it makes the corners dark and gloomy; other cities don't give up their best corners to banks, they prefer business firms who will help make the city look bright and cheerful. As the bank seems to control most of our downtown corners, why wouldn't it be in order to pass an ordinance compelling them to turn on a little electric juice. Iron gates and bars dimly lighted make the lower look as if there was a prison on every corner. If you want to see a contrast just take the trouble to walk down to Sixth and Broadway some evening and see the Silverwood idea of making a corner look bright and attractive. Honest John, I guess the Silverwood store are the best advertisement Los Angeles ever had. The old man gets all kinds of propositions from all over the West asking him to please start a Silverwood store in their town.

dent assured Count Cassini that Secretary Taft's visit was entirely devoid of political significance. The Committee of Ministers today commenced the consideration of the plan for the constitution of the national assembly, as formulated by the Boulanger Rescript Commission, and it is possible that if the news of the Russian naval disaster reacts seriously on the temper of the people that there may be an attempt to relieve the situation by an early announcement on this subject. The Bourne showed no signs of panic today. Fours again closed at 83 1/2.

DELASSE IS FOR PEACE.

PREMIER ROUVIER AND FINANCIAL INTERESTS WITH HIM.

France, However, Will Not Take Initiative Until Definitely Requested to Do So—New York Japanese to Present Loving Cup to Admiral Togo.

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.) PARIS, May 30.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The view that prevails in official quarters here is that some time must elapse before Russia reaches a final determination as to her future course, but it is anticipated that she is likely to canvass the situation among the friendly nations with the purpose of ascertaining the best possible basis for the conclusion of the war. However, French officials do not expect such processes to advance rapidly, owing to the leisurely methods of Russian diplomacy and the conflicting internal elements.

It is certain that if Foreign Minister Delcasse's advice is solicited it will be quoted in behalf of the reestablishment of peace, but there is no indication that France will take the initiative until definitely requested to do so. Conversely, recently with a diplomat relative to the possibilities of peace, M. Delcasse said it was easy to give advice, but difficult to have it accepted. Nevertheless, his influence had been constantly exerted toward a pacific solution. Premier Rouvier shares the same sentiments on the subject as does M. Delcasse and powerful financial interests are in favor of peace.

For the moment, however, officials here are absorbed in the visit of King Alfonso, which affects the most vital feature of French foreign policy, and, therefore, it is of more immediate concern to France than Russia's dilemma.

CURE GLARING TAX MISTAKES.

Scheme to Stop Discrimination by Exposure.

Councilmen Favor Printing Every Man's Share.

Little Booklet That Would Paralyze Favoritism.

Convinced that unequal assessments have in the past deprived the city of many thousands of dollars of legitimate revenue, city officials are working on an improved plan of assessing real estate, which, it is believed, will render discrimination in favor of one property owner against others so glaringly apparent that no assessor or board of equalization will dare attempt to do so.

Two improvements now under consideration are: Publishing the tax lists each year in cheap and convenient tabulated form, and requiring the assessor to disclose to the board of equalization, not only the results of his work, but also the various steps in the process by which he arrives at those results.

Publication of the tax lists in tabulated form so that each person who is willing to pay the cost of printing (25 cents) can take home with him and examine at his leisure the assessor's work, has been found in the East to diminish the temptation to favoritism and inequality by promptly exposing it.

One important thing in an assessment is to have every man's property assessed as nearly as possible on an equality with every other man's. If the tax lists of the city have been published for the last ten years, such a howl would doubtless have arisen from property owners that hundreds of cases of inequality would have been equalized, and the city would be at least a couple of hundred thousand dollars to the good.

Here are a few instances of unequal assessment taken from the records in the assessor's office.

STRIKING INSTANCES.

A tract of land containing eighteen blocks on Occidental boulevard, assessed at $30 each. He made the buildings and found that these lots are selling for $3000 each.

Eleven lots in the same block on Alvarado street are assessed on the tax lists at $1800 each. The twelfth lot, which to all appearances is as valuable as any of the others, is assessed at $1000.

The only explanation given is that a deputy working over the books some years ago wrote $1000 (by mistake) and the assessor, deeming it better to follow the book without making a personal inspection of the property.

Assessors, it is said, have found the property on a number of streets in Garvanza and Highland Park assessed for not more than one-third of its actual value.

time to enforce this rule during my first assessment I could have the assessment roll at least $2,000,000 that I shall not be able to secure owing to the short time for making the assessment and my limited help.

That $2,000,000 would mean $3,000 in revenue each year.

Councilmen have figured that if the tax roll were to be published the owners of property in any locality would quickly detect if some one there were not paying his share of the assessment.

The rapid advance in the value of property in some localities during the last three years made these discrepancies more apparent.

Mr. Lewis says it will not be possible to publish the tax list this year before the Board of Equalization meets and that to publish it afterward would not help any on the present assessment.

But Councilmen think it could be published in time to be of valuable assistance for next year. The cost would only be a few hundred dollars and the consequent saving would probably amount to many thousands of dollars in increased revenue to the city.

It is not charged that any assessor has been guilty of malfeasance in office in connection with the inequal assessments, but that the magnitude of the assessment has always necessitated a great portion of the work being done in the office.

Brings Injunction Suit to Prevent Shade Trees from Being Killed at Her Alhambra Place and to Preserve Intact Her Orange Grove—An Alhambra Instance.

To cut down wide spreading shade trees have been deemed an improvement more than once, despite the fact that the property owners thought otherwise.

Mrs. Ellen E. Valk of Alhambra is complaining because a beautiful line of grevilleas fronting on one side of her home are being buried under about six feet of earth, and she has promptly carried her complaint into court asking for an injunction.

Mrs. Valk lives on a six-acre orange grove fronting on the south side of Pine street, which runs east and west and divides the municipalities of Alhambra and South Pasadena. The orange trees are twelve years old, and the cement patio home, buried in a wealth of flowers and foliage, is valued at $6000.

But the spirit of "improvement" was abroad and S. F. Wuest began filling in the street in front of Mrs. Valk's home with earth, covering over the grove and burying the trees to a depth of between five and six feet.

That, of course, means the doom of the shade trees, and Mrs. Valk has risen in rebellion. She claims that this fill is being made along about one hundred and fifty feet of her frontage to her detriment; that when completed she will be deprived of the view of her home, and the storm waters will be compelled to flow over her lands instead of down the street as heretofore, and will accumulate just about where her house is situated.

All of this kind of improvement may be gratifying to persons of a mathematical mind, who love to see all grades conform and all streets run in parallel or at right angles to one another, but for her who desires a beautiful tree-lined street, the improvement is a disaster.

The vandalism displayed in cutting down and burying the grove of trees that are the mature growth of fifteen and twenty years merely that the street curb may not be interrupted, or that the official grade be introduced is causing a good deal of unrest in a number of suburban towns. And yet it has been pointed out by property owners more than once that the large Oneonta tract, which was laid out in streets, curbed, graded and sidewalked, with trees planted along each street before ever a lot was placed on the market, the natural growth was not disturbed by any of these improvements.

The tract extending from South Pasadena to the borders of Alhambra was covered with oaks, and if one happened to have been in the middle of the sidewalk, the oak was left standing there. Did one interpose right in the middle of the line of the sidewalk, the sidewalk was carried around the tree, and as a consequence the beauty of the landscape has been preserved and the utilities maintained at the same time.

THAT TRIO OF BABY BURGLARS.

ARRESTED FOR BREAKING INTO A SCHOOLHOUSE.

Taken to the Detention Home but Refused Admittance, and After Much Red Tape Were Finally Given to Their Parents by Judge Wilbur.

Three babies were taken to the Detention Home on Sunday night by an officer. They were tiny little fellows, and as they ambled beside the police officer who had placed them under arrest they were not without their charms.

The trio of kiddies had been captured while in the act of burglarizing a schoolhouse in their neighborhood. The officer brought along with him the incriminating evidence—a lot of pencils, rubber and notebooks. Whether these had been merely disarranged when the babies were playing "tag" around the desks, or whether in their desperate attempt to escape they had gathered the plunder together ready for removal has not yet developed.

Home isn't running a place for babies, and she demurred at turning the three children in with the regular boys of the home. She quickly discovered that the tripe was as guileless and innocent of wrongdoing as could be, and she refused to take any chances of their being contaminated by evil communications. Justice Chambers was appealed to over the telephone, and he instructed that the parents take the children home and appear in court with them on time.

The parents took them, but on Monday night an officer again appeared at the Detention Home with the three children. This made the usually mild-mannered matron a little bit ruffled. She wanted to know why the arresting officer didn't lift the children and put them one after the other across his

Struggle for Standing Room
on Trolley Lines.

First Great Rush of the Year to the Seaside.

Twenty-five Thousand Ride
on Various Lines.

Twenty-five thousand persons "hit"
and bled for seats on the electric cars to the beaches yesterday. The lines to the sea were taxed to their capacity.
Cars followed one another so closely and from the ocean that the trolley conductors could not keep track of them. It was the biggest day in the history of local electric traffic, barring only the regular New Year's Day rush to Pasadena for the Tournament of Flowers, on which event yesterday's rush had been greatly exceeded.
For sixteen hours—from 8 o'clock yesterday morning until midnight last night—every interurban car that ran out of or into Los Angeles was loaded almost to the roof with the holiday crowd. There was an endless chain of cars that wound through the streets of Los Angeles, over the level streets from here to the ocean, like a never-ending army of ants moving back and forth from an ant-hill to a sugar barrel.
The greatest crowds went to Playa Del Rey and to Long Beach—the drawing card at the former place being the unique ceremony scattering pistons on the bosom of the deep.
It was estimated by railroad officials that 1800 persons went to Playa Del
Rey, and the same number to Long Beach.
Holiday schedules were in effect on every line—cars being run just as fast as they could be turned at either end.
There were times on the Long Beach line that cars were but two minutes apart. A gratifying feature of the transportation of the avalanche of passenger-seekers was that there was no serious accident.
In the big Pacific Electric Railway station at Sixth and Main streets there was a crush of outward-bound cars from early morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon. A large portion of this crowd went to the mountains or on the various foothill trips.
During the busiest hours at the station a car was run out of the long train shed every minute, some of them north and east to the mountains, and the others south and west to the sea.
The demand for tickets to Long Beach was so great in the morning that one man did nothing but pass out tickets, while two assistants checked their entire time in stamping the tickets.
At Long Beach trains carried two thousand and even then many persons were obliged to stand. It was impossible to obtain seats for more than two-thirds of the travelers.
The rush to San Gabriel surprised the railroad men. It was estimated that more than 2000 persons went to the old mission town to attend the dedication of the Masonic Home, Glendale, Whittie, San Gabriel, Pasadena and other interurban lines also were popular with the crowds, while it was necessary to double the equipment to accommodate the Mt. Lowe travelers.
Huntington Beach, Alamitos Bay,
San Pedro, San Pedro and the other beach resorts on the Huntington lines also were popular with the business passengers of any day this season.
Fourth street was jammed all day
with the crowds bound for Playa del Rey, Ocean Park, Santa Monica, Redondo, Venice, Hollywood and other points on the Los Angeles-Pacific lines.
Huntington Beach cars went out early in the morning loaded with passengers for the seven-hour trip, while the regular extra cars were packed to the brims both going and coming.
Salt Lake steam trains retained their popularity on a large number of travelers have clung to that service between Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Pedro, and there was a scattering patronage on other steam lines to the beaches, which have cut off most of the trains with the growing importance of the electric lines.

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) May 29.—When President Roosevelt was at the Grand Canyon, on his way to California, he was accompanied by a party of twenty-eight men, most of them on a gallop that soon behind the greater number of the members of his escort. On this trip
"Grey Jim," a tall and handsome horse, the property of Martin
C. Smith, and pronounced by the President the finest saddle he had handled. From the cañon he had the sad news that "Grey Jim" is dead. While being ridden on the trip, he stepped into a gopher hole,
and in falling, he was killed.
FLAMES OVER CAVE.
About 200 miners, laid off by the United Verde mine, have put up a strike. The miners have gone back cheerfully,
leaving the cave very lightly,
but the new hands have thrown their jobs and departed. Within a there will be little to mark the cave on the surface. A curious feature will appear in the appearance of surface of light sulphurous flames have found their way to the open mouth of the mine.

PROBING SMITH'S DEATH.

It is now believed that George Smith, dead by the roadside near Je-rebo, was killed by Chino Miranda.
One of a near-by woodcutters told that one of his men visited Jerome Smith, a ring that had belonged to him. It is assumed that Smith had been slain at the wood camp by a blow from a club, his body thereafter being carried on a burro out to be dumped by roadside where found. Miranda three others have been arrested.

The advertised sale of the American reset till June 29, on representations made that the company's stockholders are working on a reorganization plan.

It is understood that funds that had been provided for the sale yesterday had been tied up by the failure of the Merlast week. Delay in the sale was opposed by the attorney for the Blanche-ard interests, Thomas Fitch, who advised the court referee that he had a Los Angeles syndicate ready to bid at least $150,000 on the property.

Last year, in the stock yards at Holman, Lacy Greer, of Concho. The widow sued the Santa Fe Pacific Company for damages. The case has just been settled out of court, the company paying the widow $2500.

TRAIN CHAIN.Struggle for Standing Room
on Trolley Lines.First Great Rush of the Year to the Seaside.Twenty-five Thousand Ride
on Various Lines.

Twenty-five thousand persons "sit" and bled for seats on the electric cars to the beaches yesterday. The lines to the sea were taxed to their capacity. Cars followed one another so closely to and from the ocean that the trolley dispatchers could not keep track of them. It was the biggest day in the history of local electric traffic, barring only the regular New Year's Day rush to Pasadena for the Tournament of Roses, on which event yesterday's record has been greatly exceeded.

The sixteen hours—from 8 o'clock yesterday morning until midnight last night—every interurban car that ran out of or into Los Angeles was loaded almost to the roof with the holiday crowd. There was an endless chain of cars that wound through the streets of Los Angeles and over the level stretches from here to the ocean, like a never-ending army of ants moving back and forth from an ant-hill to a sugar barrel.

The greatest crowds went to Playa Del Rey and to Long Beach—the latter being the scene of the celebration of the unique ceremony of scattering blossoms on the bosom of the deep. It was estimated by railroad officials that 30,000 persons went to Playa Del Rey, and the same number to Long Beach.

Holiday schedules were in effect on every line—cars being run just as fast as they could be turned at either end. There were lines on the Long Beach line that cars were but two minutes apart. A gratifying feature of the transportation of the avalanche of pleasure-seekers was that there was no serious accident.

In the big Pacific Electric Railway station at Sixth and Main streets there was a crush of outward-bound traffic from early morning until 1 o'clock in the afternoon. A large portion of this crowd went to the mountains or on the various foothill trips. During the busiest hours at the station a car was run out of the long main shed every minute, some of them bound north and east to the mountains, and the others south and west to the sea.

The demand for tickets to Long Beach was so great in the morning that one man did nothing but pass out in patchboards, which two assistants emptied their entire time in stamping. The rush to San Gabriel surprised the railroad men. It was estimated that more than 2500 persons went to the old mine town to attend the dedication of the Masonic Home. Glendale, Whittier, Monrovia, Pasadena and other inland points also were popular with the excursionists, while it was necessary to double the equipment to accommodate the Mt. Lowe travelers.

Huntington Beach, Alamitos, Bay, San Pedro and the other beach resorts on the Huntington line were their portion of the business. The Los Angeles and Redondo Railway Company had a double service all day, and carried the greatest number of passengers of any day this season.

Fourth street was jammed all day with the crowds bound for Playa Del Rey, Ocean Park, Santa Monica, Redondo, Venice, Hollywood and other points on the Los Angeles-Pacific lines.

The balloon-route cars went out early in the morning loaded with passengers. In the seven-hour trip, while the regular and extra cars were packed to the brim, both going and coming, the full Lake steam trains retained their hold on a large number of travelers who have clung to that service between Los Angeles, Long Beach and San Pedro, and there was a scattering patronage on other steam lines to the beaches, which had cut off most of their trains with the growing importance of the electric lines.

MEMORIAL.

flowers, and with tears and memories, too, for those gone before. What if one has a crutch? What if another's eyes are dim? Theirs the honor and theirs the glory; they were the men behind the guns, yesterday, and they are the men of the hour today.

Representatives of Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce have fallen in line behind the veterans. Next are the Daughters of the American Revolution, Mrs. Harriet Wright, Mrs. H. J. Gooding, Mrs. Cameron Erskine Thomas, Mrs. J. M. Martindale, Mrs. Ira W. Phelps and Mrs. Horace Cutter.

With silken banners fluttering in the breeze, with badges, and medals, and rosettes of crape, come the members were waved by the color-bearers of the various relief corps and circles.

And as fuel to the flames of patriotism was the martial music of the Veterans' Pipe and Drum Corps; and the bugle calls of Comrade O. T. Thomas, which, as they sprang from the throat of the bugle, roused on the faces of the hundreds of veterans expressions of sentiment one who witnessed them could scarcely forget.

If every croaked thing has a soul or spirit, as has been claimed by some delvers into the plane metaphysical, then the soul of old Hazard Pavilion yesterday must have soared aloft in exultation, as this—the last great general gathering to be held within its walls before its demolition—might be likened to the strangely beautiful song voiced by the swan before it expires. Proud and honored may the old pavilion be to have had its ending.

GOLDFIELD FLAT.

Rush of Boomers to Bullfrog Country—Famous Camp's Glory Has Passed—Stores Closing and Hot-Air Castles Tumbling.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

GOLDFIELD, May 27.—The boom has passed over Goldfield. Many people from all walks of life are joining the procession in the onward march to the Bullfrog country, there perhaps to repeat the experience which is typical of every mining camp. Like a flower they spring into being, bloom in all the splendor of their maturity, then fade away.

Scarcely in the history of the mining world has the boom of Goldfield been paralleled. Less than two years ago not a tent adorned the desert where now stands a city of 10,000 inhabitants, attracted thither by the marvelous stories of the new Eldorado. They came in streams by all manner of conveyances; many to seek for the hidden treasure, many more to prey on the successful seekers; some looking for business opportunities, and thousands caught in the vortex of this human maelstrom, came without the slightest idea of why they joined the stampede.

The money brought into the camp by this constant stream of humanity made the place appear most prosperous indeed, and deceived thousands into the idea that the riches of the gold fields were accounted for by this condition. Every foot of ground for miles around was staked out; hundreds of companies were organized, all finding a ready sale for their stocks, owing to the indiscriminating frenzied that had seized the people of the entire country; and the stories of the marvelous wealth of the new district went forth into all parts of the world. The great majority of these companies were organized for the sole purpose of enriching the promoters or fleecing the gullible public, many of them being miles remote from the slightest indication of any mineralization.

For eighteen months this condition prevailed, and now that it is passing away what do we find in its wake? In the Goldfield district perhaps a dozen mines have a future. Many others show surface indications that with development may prove them to be all that the most sanguine have hoped, and there is a possibility that the camp will yet be great. It is yet only a possibility, however, backed, to be sure, by the faith and confidence of some of the most eminent mining men in the world, while others are holding their opinions in abeyance, not daring to make a prediction on the meager showing of the present.

We find at present not over 250 men employed in the district—scarcely enough to support a population of 10,000. We find two ten-stamp mills in operation, and but one mine whose stock is not upon the market. The wildcats and many of the mines that may in time prove to be valuable no longer find a ready sale for their stock; the stream of transient gold is no longer coming into the town, and business is settling down to a bare subsistence level. Many of the more prosperous business houses are closing out and following the rush into the desert. The public to guess as to the whereabouts of their representatives in their hasty flight to escape the conditions of their creditors. The case of the Goldfield Bank and Trust Company, whose president and cashier fled to Paris unknown, leaving in the hands of the bank a howling demand of depositors to the amount of $250,000, is the most flagrant case of premeditated robbery that has yet opened the people's eyes. On the last day the bank was open, a customer, a man who came in to get some currency for gold was strongly importuned by the cashier to take a certificate of deposit for $10,000 in gold after banking hours, and yet when the vaults were searched on the day following, which happened to be Sunday, only $20 in coin was found in the vault. A few days prior the cashier of the Bank of the Pacific Hotel, the example, though on a minor scale, for the officers of the bank by leaving the town two days without telling his friends and creditors goodbye.

STORES CLOSING.
J. D. Lott and Co., one of the largest general merchandise establishments of this city, are closing out, and the receding tide is leaving the foots and jetties of commercial prosperity strewn along the desert sands.

Rentals of business houses are coming down, and dwelling houses which have been renting at the rate of $25 per month, unfurnished, thus paying their owners a rate of about 100 per cent. per annum on their investments, are reaching the point where the man of moderate income no longer feels the necessity of staying upon the ground with nothing but a tent between him and the storms that have been frequent during the winter months.

The sign "For Sale or Rent" peers out from the windows of hundreds of houses whose occupants have either followed the onward rush or gone back to their homes to tell of the boom that is closing out, and housekeeping outfits are sacrificed for a song. The gaming tables, that formerly were surrounded by the lucky speculators, are being broken up, and the prospectors, who are now bolstered by "boomers," whose paste diamonds and saloon complexes too clearly betray their calling.

Many fortunes have been made and many lost during this feverish excitement. The great opportunity for gain with little capital have attracted the unsuccessful from other fields and many of the criminal outfits of our large cities. Francis Burton, who is implicated in the looting of the Goldfield Bank and Trust Company, and a large number of the funds of the American National Bank of San Francisco to his own use, is one of our prominent figures. The Breakmore Brokerage Company, successors to Mims-Sutro Company, is headed by one of Abe Ruef's discredited henchmen.

A LOS ANGELES HUMBLED.

Wildcat mining companies have been promoted by men who never saw a mine. A notable instance is the Juno Mining Company, bonded for $50,000 by a one-time Count Polono of Los Angeles, acting as agent, to Fritz Werner of the same place. The company was incorporated, stock placed on the market, and the work of developing the property commenced under the direction of Werner, who doesn't know an ore shaft from an extinct volcano. A tunnel over 300 feet in length was driven into a hill directly in line with the formation, flattening reports published of the showings encountered therein; frequent meetings of the directors, none of whom was ever in a mine, were held, and the force kept up until the money quit coming in. In the early days of this month an escrow payment of $100,000 was made, which the company was unable to meet, so the property was forfeited to the original owners, the tracks and timbers removed from the workings and the entire proposition abandoned. The stock is still quoted on the San Francisco market, and likely some Werner's friends are still gambling on a mine that has ceased to be except in name only. Werner will go back to his father in Los Angeles and tell him that he was the victim of designing sharks; Polono, of unsavory fame, in this community at least, will lose his position as cashier of the Las Vegas Bank, though his pockets are lined with little he cares; but the great public who have in good faith put their money into this gigantic fraud will have nothing but their worthless stock certificates to show for it. The history of one of the many, many frauds of the new Eldorado.

The great Wisconsin of Lida, advertising iron doors and armed guards at the entrance to their mine, whose balloon has been punctured by the failure of the Goldfield Bank and Trust Company, is another case where hopeful investors will long be privileged to gaze upon the beautiful seal, the imprint of which is upon paper they may keep as the sole memento of their business sagacity.

All these things are the results of a same craze that made princes and paupers in the days of the old Comstock, and when it shall have committed its last gasp, when capital is no longer prohibited by the inflated prices from exploring the mineral resources of this promising land, we may then look forward to a time when the roar of the mills and the smoke from the smelters will betoken a prosperous mining camp.

THE GOLD INDUSTRY.
BIG GUSHER SANDED UP.
ESPEE GETS HEAVY FUEL OIL AT CASMALIA.

Amalgamated Has Another Freak Well—Santa Maria Scene of Activity—Union Buys Out J. W. Squires—May Get a New Gusher Soon.

The Los Angeles gusher, which was brought in last week by the Amalgamated Oil Company on the Arturus property, has followed the usual course of the Salt Lake wells, and now gushes no longer. It has been sanded up to such an extent that yesterday it was reported that it would not pump at all, much less flow without artificial aid. This well is said to have been the largest yet found west of the city and for twenty-four hours it poured its oil in a flood that looked somewhat threatening for a time. Then it slowed up, quit gushing, flowed a little for a time, and then settled down to a pumping habit of well on the Salt Lake property. It has been gush some more for a day or two before getting permanently settled. The geological formation and the character of oil at the Amalgamated properties seem to combine to develop freak wells.

The Amalgamated now has about thirty wells and more in course of drilling. Tanks are being put up from time to time, and the appearance of the field has greatly changed since the first of the year. The pipe line to the city is pumping steadily.

SANTA MARIA BOOMING.
The center of interest in the oil industry for the time being is at Santa Maria. While the Standard is gradually withdrawing from Kern, there is entering with a rush upon the work of capturing the Santa Maria business. It is apparently seeking for wells or production, but the Standard is following its well-established policy of becoming the marketer of the output. Miles of 3-inch pipe are already being laid.

The Union's line to Port Harford is pumping night and day, but the company's own output is more than sufficient to test its full capacity, and it affords no outlet to other producers. Not having any wells of its own to take care of its full capacity, it will be able to relieve the situation.

The famous Hartnell gusher of the Union continues to pour forth about 600 barrels a day, and this alone is a lot of oil to store, or to ship by the pipe line. Great dams have been thrown up to the storage reservoirs. The Western Union brought in a big well of 800 barrels a day last week. It is about 25 gravity. The oil is said to be of the Casma type.

SANTA MARIA FUEL.
The Southern Pacific has, after two years' persistence in the face of many discouragements, succeeded in penetrating the thick strata of far encountered, and has finished a well at Casma station, where three other attempts were made and resulted in failure. The oil is an unusually heavy grade, of 12 to 14 gravity, and is expected to be an excellent fuel similar to the Kern product. The well is said to have a capacity of 100 to 150 barrels a day, an excellent production for that class of oil.

If the matter of expense in drilling wells is overcome, this should result in the establishment of a new Santa Maria field, and now that it has been found, a search for more of this will be done. At present these fields produce but a small amount of the best fuel, most of the product being a light kerosene oil. By a process taking off the lighter properties it can, of course, be made more suitable for fuel. It is anticipated that the Santa Maria oil has come into competition in the fuel market to some extent. What may be the effects of the Espee's discovery of heavy fuel at Casma is entirely problematical, and a matter beyond the immediate future. Of course, if it develops into a substantial field it will furnish a fuel supply for the coast lines that now have all their oil hauled from Kern.

The Graciosa is about to pump its private shipments to Casma, where it will ship via the Espee, thus avoiding the trouble experienced in doing business with the narrow-gauge Pacific Coast Railroad, a line that is generally in a state of almost total collapse and does totally collapse whenever any pressure of oil is put upon it.

ESPEE MAY EXTEND.
While there is nothing tangible to base it upon, there is an idea that is very general that the Espee will soon take action toward extending its

Some trade-marks are worth a million dollars—some are worth nothing.

What makes the difference?

A trade-mark has no intrinsic value, and while it may represent goods of the highest quality it can never be reckoned as an asset until it is so well known that it carries with it the story of an article that has made an indelible impression on the minds of the people.

An impression, however, requires careful cultivation before it can become indelible, and that means advertising.

THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL will circulate your advertisement from the Atlantic to the Pacific, will carry it into more than a million homes, and will insure for it the attention of five million people who know that all its announcements are so carefully censored as to make it a guide to safe buying.

branch from the sugar factory at Latastaria into the oil district. The line to the sugar factory is now little more than a long switch for the accommodation of that concern and about an eight-mile extension would tap the oil region that at present has almost nothing in the way of railroad. The construction of pipe lines cannot be considered as discouraging the railroad, as there will be supplies of machinery and provisions as well as passenger traffic to be handled which the pipe lines will only encourage by opening up the field. Besides, there is a certain to be plenty of oil in the near future to be shipped by rail, in addition to that piped, if production continues to increase at its present rate.

LOCATION CHANGED.
The Pennsylvania Petroleum has abandoned its property on the Wiley ranch in the eastern extremity of the field without getting oil, the formation having proved to be too difficult to penetrate. The company has now secured a lease on sixty acres on the Kayser ranch, near the Santa Maria Oil field, and not far from the still more famous gusher on the Hartnell property of the Union. This is about two miles west of the former location of the well.

The abandonment of the Wiley lease leaves the eastern part of the district still unproven. A discovery there would mean an extension of the belt nearly two miles.

The Pacific Oil and Transportation Company has begun drilling on the Collette estate, where it has secured land. This company was one of those that abandoned the effort to get oil at Casma, where the Espee has just succeeded in getting a fuel product.

UNION BUYS PROPERTY.
The Union Oil Company has purchased the entire interest of J. W. Squires in the Santa Maria Oil field, and is now the sole owner. Mr. Squires is said to have received $10,000 for his holdings, and is in a position as superintendent of the property. He was one of the oil pioneers of Santa Barbara county, and has worked for years in the face of many discouragements and finally succeeded some time since. The Union had sufficient confidence in his part of the field to back the enterprise and now takes over all the property, which is an excellent one, located in the heart of the district.

The Union is drilling another well on the Hartnell property, near the great gusher, and it is reported that the drill is not on the pole of entering sand, from which the first well burst out with such force. The result will be watched with much interest.

The Union has just laid off two drilling crews, and is curtailing development.

Business With Beggars.
"I saw an example of fine business sagacity on the part of two street mendicants yesterday," said a servant man. "On one of our crowded corners a man and woman, both blind, stood confused by the noise and traffic, hesitating to cross the street. Presently a many-looking little boy stepped out from the throng and guided the couple safely across the street. When across the last turned up the street and left the beggars alone. His kind and thoughtful attention elicited complimentary remarks from some of the people who had seen the action. I passed down the next block in a few minutes, and there the same couple were standing on the curb, apparently afraid to cross unassisted—when out from the madding crowd steps our brave knight errant and escorts the afflicted ones to the opposite corner. The young man's conduct again attracted notice, and I think prompted the giving of more than one coin contributed at that corner. I suppose the boy was the child of the mendicants, and that he was waiting for the chance to get a lesson in the reason that his childish gallantry and their utter helplessness would elicit greater pity."—[Birmingham Age-Herald.]
